

George Furbank (13-15)

George played his first rugby at Huntingdon RFC, where his grandfather Richard (54-64) and father, Tim (82-87), had been involved since the 1950s. Before joining Bedford, George played other sports, including cricket where he was a talented batsman and was on the books at Leicestershire until under-16 level. He joined Bedford for sixth form, captaining the rugby 1st XV before linking up with the Saints' Senior Academy in 2015. In 2016, George played for Saints in the Singha Premiership Rugby Sevens Series campaign, and in 2017 lifted the Premiership Rugby U18s League trophy before becoming Saint #1986.

He made his Saints debut in the Anglo Welsh Cup in November 2017 against the Exeter Chiefs scoring his first senior try before being forced off with a knee injury.

In his break-through season he made 18 appearances claiming the Club's Player of the Month award for February before helping Saints reach the knock-out stages of every competition. He started in the European Challenge Cup quarter-final against Clermont Auvergne, and the Premiership Rugby Cup final victory in 2019 that saw Northampton claim their first piece of silverware in five seasons.

George received his first call up to the senior England squad on 20 January 2020 for the 2020 Guinness Six Nations Championship making his debut against France in Eddie Jones' starting XV. Despite a disrupted season due to Covid, the team went on to win the Championship.
