“You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself any direction you choose.”

Dr Seuss' nonsensical language, creative characters and outrageous settings lend themselves perfectly to theatrical adaptation. Arguably the most iconic children's author of all time, Dr Seuss painted vivid pictures of nonsense while weaving narratives of friendship, acceptance and ultimately the world-changing power of imagination. Ahrens and Flaherty's musical adaption brings Seuss' characters to colourful life.

The challenge for the company and creative team has been how we balance the expectations of portraying such iconic characters and worlds with the creative freedom of finding our own interpretations. The resounding sound of the process has been 'Yes!' - we can try the outlandish, we can stretch our creativity, we can put our own stamp on it. Every member of the team has enabled each other to try new things, and what could be more Dr Seuss than that?

I would like to take this opportunity to thank every single member of the Seussical team for their warmth, creativity and support. The future of theatre is bright with these brilliant people at the helm.
