

Facing the challenges of being young in the 21st century A twilight session for parents

Monday 20th November
5pm- 6pm Great Hall, The Leys

St Faith's parents are warmly invited to attend this talk at The Leys on Monday evening. The speakers are Natasha Devon who works for 'Cosmopolitan' magazine and Martin Daubney who was formerly the editor of 'Loaded' magazine. Both are lively and forthright speakers. Please note that this session will be aimed at parents of pupils from Year 7 upwards. Topics covered will include self-esteem and body image, staying safe at parties and healthy relationships.

If you wish to attend this talk, please contact Helen Hynd, Director of Pastoral Care at The Leys School and let her know that you wish to attend. This will give her an idea of numbers for refreshments! Mrs Hynd's e-mail address is HHH@theleys.net

Parking will be available in the car park next to West House from 4.30pm.